If your recommenders will not send the recommendation to you to include in your single submission, please direct them to email the file to zubrow@jlc.org and title the attachment using the following format: LastName_FirstName_ZubrowRecommendation

Juvenile Law Center is committed to advancing equity both internally and in our advocacy work. We recognize the urgency and necessity of actively building and supporting diverse leadership at Juvenile Law Center and in the field more broadly. We are committed to actively recruiting and hiring from communities most impacted by our work. Applicants working to advance equity and who identify with these impacted communities are strongly encouraged to apply and self-identify during the application process.

ESSAYS Please attach your essay responses on separate sheets, labeled with your name

Tell us your reasons for seeking the Zubrow Fellowship in Children's Law and how you believe this fellowship relates to your future career goals. Please include a discussion of your interest in children's law. While Zubrow fellows work on a wide variety of projects, to help us learn more about you, please look at our current initiatives (<http://jlc.org/current-initiatives>) and find one specific issue (e.g. Economic Justice, Older Youth in Foster Care, Education, Youth Tried as Adults) that interests you and explain why. 750 words or fewer.

Please explain what unique contributions you can make to Juvenile Law Center's mission, based on your experiences (personal, professional, academic, volunteer, extracurricular, etc.), skills, and attributes. You are encouraged, but not required, to reflect on how your own background or identity influences your dedication to working on behalf of marginalized youth or individuals. (350 words or fewer). 350 words or fewer.
